

A CASE FOR THE CAPTIVE SOULS

Before I begin this post, I want to state that I am aware that God is in complete control and knows everything that every soul has gone through and everything that the world construct and those in charge of it have subjected the souls to. This world is a sifting/purifying machine which should enable souls to practice free will to make informed decisions, learn from their mistakes and grow from the lessons learned as they walk with Christ in God.

As I have accumulated much observations through my experiences and looking at the state of captive souls, I have felt increasingly compelled to write about the effectiveness and stability of this world construct's "operating system" and make a case for the captive souls.

I also have something to say about the captive souls that promote submission to this system, justifying anything done to the living souls (free souls) however unjust while defending Satan and his fallen angels.

Many self-serving head-persecutors enjoy touting the positive effects of the abuse foisted on living souls because the souls who do overcome grow in strength, knowledge and wisdom, but should this success be attributed to the actions of evildoers? Should the credit not go to Christ as the only souls that actually succeed in surviving the abuse and overcoming the world system are those born again through the blood of Christ and the Holy Spirit?

While it may be true that persecution may trigger a soul to either give in to Satan and cross the mirror or seek Christ out to leave the system, I find particularly objectionable for the Kingdom of Darkness to attempt taking the credit at once for pushing the weaker souls off the cliff while at the same time taking credit for the success of the souls who overcome their abuse, claiming that if it wasn't for them these souls would not have a testimony to speak of. I once heard someone saying that "Had Judas not existed, Jesus would not have been able to fulfill His mission of overcoming death..." Did Judas and the Kingdom of Darkness that controlled him know from the start that Jesus was going to do this or were they intent on killing Jesus? I believe it is clear that Judas was never knowingly doing a favour to Jesus but looking out for his own interests. If Judas had refused and shown integrity, he would have been saved and another corrupt soul would have taken his place as there is no shortage of workers of iniquity. To wrap this up, the Kingdom of Darkness is not in the business of doing any favors to living souls as its goal is to see souls fail and collect fallen souls. It cannot therefore take any credit for souls overcoming the world. That credit goes to Jesus Christ and the Kingdom of Truth and Life.

Further something for souls to think about. Did God delegate the powers to test souls to Satan and his fallen angels or to souls? I don't believe souls were mandated by God to persecute others souls; they are not doing God's work when they are being used by Satan.

This brings me back to what Joseph said to his brothers who had years before sold him as a slave to Midianites in Egypt, when they finally apologized to him in Egypt where they had gone for assistance during a great famine and found their brother was now in charge of all of Egypt's grain stock:

Genesis 50:19-20 - "Do not be afraid, for am I in the place of God? But as for you, you meant evil against me; but God meant it for good, in order to bring it about as it is this day, to save many people alive.

In God's Word, it is clear that it is God that let's evil operate for good to come of it when souls overcome but He is not the one who foists this evil. Satan's Kingdom does have evil intent against the souls as it works through demons influencing its workers of iniquity on earth. Satan and his workers cannot therefore take credit for any of the good that comes from souls overcoming their schemes.

While this seems obvious, I have witnessed that nobody really speaks about the persecution of living souls, not even pastors. When these allude to their own persecution, they always speak to one or two events that were unpleasant in their lives but they do not seem to have intimate knowledge of the wilderness experience. I also noticed that most of the people in the world engage in gang stalking, witchcraft and deceit as most are being used to harass the living souls which may be the reason why nobody in my experience is actually going through their own wilderness experience. Many teachers or pastors like to remind souls that "...even the archangel Michael, when he was disputing with the devil about the body of Moses, did not himself dare to condemn him for slander but said, "The Lord rebuke you!" (Jude 1:9), to encourage them to submit and know their place in Satan's world.

Much effort is therefore expended to convince souls of the virtues of suffering when a soul walks the straight and narrow path and while this is true, is it the role of humanity to throw itself under the bus without seeking any kind of justice, without shedding light on the brokenness of the world system and reaching out for God's mercy?

The Ostrich Effect of this continued voluntary blindness has resulted in a completely broken system – one filled with people who were initiated into it at a young age before having any wisdom or the knowledge required to make informed free will decisions on the future of their soul. Many suffered severe trauma and abuse which fractured their soul while others were in complete ignorance when signing on. These are now shadows meandering through life, going along to get along, not making any waves, sharing the worldly wisdom of the defeated and glorifying compliance to evil.

Are the souls, God's pride and joy, meant to live in fear? Are they meant to simply exist as backseat drivers that are nurturing their chains while shadows drive their car? Was the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil really meant to churn out souls suffering from Stockholm syndrome?

Def Stockholm syndrome is a coping mechanism to a captive or abusive situation. People develop positive feelings toward their captors or abusers over time. This condition applies to situations including child abuse, coach-athlete abuse, relationship abuse and sex trafficking.

Further, has Satan gone beyond the powers that God had delegated to him to test the souls to a point where he has in effect been collecting souls illegally?

Based on my observations, I cannot help but come to the conclusion that this is absolutely what has happened over time and that this state of affairs has led to serious systemic problems in the world system, breaking down the mechanism which could have previously allowed souls to be tested fairly if that was ever Satan's intention which is highly unlikely at this point.

GODS'S DELEGATED POWERS TO SATAN FOR THE TESTING OF SOULS

Cycle of attack 1 - Attack Possessions (Money, house, car, job, children and marriages)

Job 1:6-12 - Satan Attacks Job's Character

"Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan also came among them. And the Lord said to Satan, "From where do you come?"

So Satan answered the Lord and said, "From going to and fro on the earth, and from walking back and forth on it."

Then the Lord said to Satan, "Have you considered My servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man, one who fears God and shuns evil?"

So Satan answered the Lord and said, "Does Job fear God for nothing? Have You not made a hedge around him, around his household, and around all that he has on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his possessions have increased in the land. But now, stretch out Your hand and touch all that he has, and he will surely curse You to Your face!"

And the Lord said to Satan, "Behold, all that he has is in your power; only do not lay a hand on his person."

So Satan went out from the presence of the Lord."

Cycle of attack 2 - Attack the body but cannot kill or touch the soul

Job 2:1-6 - Satan Attacks Job's Health

"Again there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them to present himself before the Lord. And the Lord said to Satan, "From where do you come?"

Satan answered the Lord and said, "From going to and fro on the earth, and from walking back and forth on it."

Then the Lord said to Satan, "Have you considered My servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a blameless and upright man, one who fears God and shuns evil? And still he holds fast to his integrity, although you incited Me against him, to destroy him without cause."

So Satan answered the Lord and said, "Skin for skin! Yes, all that a man has he will give for his life. But stretch out Your hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will surely curse You to Your face!"

And the Lord said to Satan, "Behold, he is in your hand, but spare his life."

I think it is obvious here what the mindset of Satan is. He wants to show God that His creation is not special and that even His most righteous will fall if you take away everything they own and attack their health. Notice that when he first challenged God, he only mentioned that Job would certainly fall if all his possessions were taken away. But righteous Job passed the test so Satan went back to God and asked if he could attack his body. God allowed it but said "spare his life" in other words he could not kill him or attack his soul it goes without saying since God's breath of life is in the soul.

Does it sound like Satan ever wanted any soul to make it out of here? Satan does indeed attack everything a living soul has, absolutely everything and also attacks the body. But has Satan gone beyond the powers God delegated to him? It is my opinion that he has overstepped those boundaries, yes.

For those who are like Job's friends and still don't understand that you are living in the midst of a spiritual war, you should realize by now that Satan attacks the righteous. He leaves you alone if you are not seeking God and are unlikely to leave his system and even more so when you have handed your soul over to him to become his slave. Therefore, if you are a worker of iniquity acting on Satan's behest, torturing daily the living souls and getting such a high out of it that you can scarcely control your duper's delight reflexes, remember that you are attacking one of God's own and that God sees everything through their eyes just as Satan sees everything through yours.

Isaiah 29:15-16 "Woe to those who go to great depths to hide their plans from the Lord, who do their work in darkness and think, "Who sees us? Who will know?"

You turn things upside down, as if the potter were thought to be like the clay! Shall what is formed say to the one who formed it, "You did not make me"? Can the pot say to the potter, "You know nothing"?"

God being omnipotent, omnipresent and omniscient, knows everything and is in full control and is ultimately the only true and fair Judge. God will restore those who choose Him and His Son in the end.

Souls may not be in a position to judge Satan, the Accuser, but certainly God has allowed His own to pray for the Elect and the Nations and to seek His mercy in the face of injustice from Satan's persecution. God did for example mandate Moses to order Pharaoh on His behalf, to "Let My people go!" and Moses also asked God for mercy for His people.

With this in mind, I wish to work through some of the benchmarks given to souls to understand God's will and to know how to walk according to His will and compare these to what the system is actually doing when claiming to be testing the souls within its authorized parameters vis-à-vis God's delegated powers.

FREE WILL

God allows souls to be tested through their informed free will decisions in order to properly assess their faithfulness, righteousness and increasing holiness as they are being sifted. How could God possibly judge souls for their decisions if they had no valid information available before making those decisions and were forced into making them.

Alternatively, how could souls be judged on their decisions if free will did not exist? If they were told it did not exist and that they had no choice?

Satan, the Accuser, has convinced the souls that God's Word does not allow for the existence of free will as it does not explicitly describe this concept. This has been shared in many movies and by many in positions of authority claiming for example that souls do not have any rights over their bodies.

If free will does not exist, how can souls then be judged at all? How can souls be judged on their choices if the Accuser states that they never had the free will required to make a choice to begin with?

Knowledge and Informed Free Will Decision

And if the Accuser then says that souls do have free will to choose and can therefore be judged on these very choices, in what circumstances should those choices be esteemed valid. Should souls have the proper knowledge and understanding enabling them to make reasonable informed decisions? Should they be found guilty if they sign on to their soul's demise without any knowledge beforehand of what was involved? For example, neophytes taking oaths where information is withheld from them until they are neck deep into an organization?

Hosea 4:6 – “My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge. Because you have rejected knowledge, I also will reject you from being a priest for Me; Because you have forgotten the law of your God, I also will forget your children.”

The above verse implies a purposeful rejection of God's knowledge by the souls but God's wrath is likely to apply as well to those who purposefully withhold true knowledge from souls in order to entrap them.

Maturity, Mental Health and State of Soul to Exert Free Will

Should souls be in an adequate mental or spiritual state to reasonably make a sensible decision on the destiny of their souls? For example, if children are being sexualized and tortured and their souls are being fragmented allowing demons to access them in their youth, should they be carrying the weight of the choices they make thereafter affecting their soul's destiny?

This question is not raised to remove free will or expectations from any soul, that is not God's way. But should accusations be levelled against victims who fell from grace when it is the system itself that coerced their fall?

The world has now started to tout a new concept - the age of accountability... but what is that? It is not found in God's Word and yet these individuals who are finding new ways for Satan to collect more souls while pouring blame onto children they likely participated in breaking down, are the same individuals who claim free will does not exist... The age of accountability if there were such a thing, is for God to determine for each soul on a case-by-case basis as only God is the judge and only He knows the depth of each heart and soul - only He knows the full story.

Mark 9:42 - "Whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him if a great millstone were hung around his neck and he were thrown into the sea."

It seems to me that once again the Kingdom of Darkness is attempting to play both ends against the middle. Souls only have free will if they make bad decisions and subsequently fall from grace; Souls do not have free will if they intend to make good decisions and are likely to succeed in overcoming the world.

Which is it?

And if free will is meant to exist as God's Word makes implicitly clear, but is made impossible to exercise due to systemic obstacles devised by the Accuser, then can the system still be called a system? Is the operating system not turning on itself so to speak? After all, a system without any boundaries and stable rules can no longer respectably be called a system.

Exodus 23:7 – "Keep far from a false charge, and do not kill the innocent and righteous, for I will not acquit the wicked."

While there are those souls that knowingly accept to sell out after being seduced by the World and failing the righteousness test, the world system on the flip side also overwhelms the minds by flooding the landscape with disinformation. I pray for God's mercy on the captive souls.

PROPER INTERPRETATION OF GOD'S WORD

From observation but also from personal experience going through the wilderness experience, I have noticed that the Accuser's workers of iniquity who are fed their lines by the demonic realm, do not seem to properly understand God's Word. Is there a purposeful misinterpretation of terminology to prevent souls from ever meeting God's expectations such that their wilderness experience would eventually end? If the Judges are subverting this important part of the testing process, how can the souls' wilderness experience be reasonably allowed to continue if those who wield the power and abuse of it are found to constantly be moving the goalposts?

For demonstration purposes, I will compare God's expected behaviour for a soul indwelt by the Holy Spirit (fruits of the Spirit) versus Satan's expectations which seem to be self-serving.

Fruits of the Spirit	God's interpretation	Satan's interpretation
Love	God wants us to love Him and His Son first and then others as ourselves but He also asks us not to be part of the world and socialize with the dead who have become Satan's minions and do not want to get rid of their familiar spirits or gatekeepers. Love for others doesn't mean you view them as your masters and obey their every whim especially when the true intentions of those pursuing you are evil. Children of God only worship and serve God.	Satan ensures his workers of iniquity accuse God's children of being unloving if they don't bow down to them and the world. He turns everything upside down creating confusion. For example, society is now being asked to be loving and accepting of anything and anybody even those who mean children harm which goes completely against God's Word. At this point, souls are being asked to become accustomed to torture and to develop a sadistic taste for it.

	2 Corinthians 6:14-16 "Do not be yoked together with unbelievers. For what do righteousness and wickedness have in common? Or what fellowship can light have with darkness? What harmony is there between Christ and Belial? Or what does a believer have in common with an unbeliever? What agreement is there between the temple of God and idols? For we are the temple of the living God."	There is no true love coming from this world or the values it promotes.
Joy	God wants us to remain joyful in the face of everything because this demonstrates to the fallen world our unshakable faith in Him and our knowledge that He is with us always. However, God through His Holy Spirit, our Consoler, does wipe our tears away when we suffer. He does not judge us for our suffering when we are being tried. God is not a cold, indifferent Father, He is truly loving.	Satan and his minions judge souls when in the midst of their suffering accusing them of not being joyful when they are being outright tortured. This is the nature of the psychopath Joker character in Batman. There are no redeeming qualities and no way to get through that level of unconsciousness.
Peace	Jesus asks us to be peaceful and not to quarrel uselessly however	Satan and his minions do not want peace with the living souls, they want to

	He also asks us to stand firm. He does not ask us to compromise our values in order to keep the peace, (i.e.: go along to get along). Jesus knows it is impossible for souls to spread peace if the whole worldly hive is being deceptive and attacking them. This would be an impossible feat for anybody. You cannot have peace if you are the only one seeking it. The peace that Jesus referred to was the peace He gave us, that is, the confidence to walk in His footsteps to overcome the world with the assurance that we can succeed because He overcame the world and He told us that we could do it as well.	kill them and Satan made that clear from the very beginning. Satan is busy harassing and provoking living souls with the intent of making them fall to discredit them in God's eyes. Satan likes to promote coexistence but what he means is that to be labelled as peaceful in his system, people must accept everything he proposes no matter how evil. Satan is the one that does not tolerate what is different, especially those who follow Christ.
Patience	Patience in God's Word means Perseverance, steadfastness, constancy or endurance through persecution. This shows the fallen world the soul's unshakable faith in God through adversity. The Holy Spirit allows us to be patient with God while we wait for His return and trust in His promises to us. God is not asking us to be patient with Satan and his	The impatience mislabelling has been used more than once against me by the workers of iniquity who consistently smirked while glibly telling me I needed to be more patient with them as they gaslighted me. Their interpretation of patience would have souls turning into bumps on a log, or rocks, being completely unreactive to anything - allowing abusers to walk all over them without ever reacting or saying a word.

	abusers. God is not in the business of creating broken and defeated children. He asks us to stand strong on our foundation that is Jesus Christ, and to live according to God's Word, persevering, holding strongly onto God's promises to get through it all as we courageously continue to advance through the storm. A sign of patience or perseverance is our obedience to God not to take matters into our own hands by seeking revenge (although Satan and his minions go out of their way to get us to do that). God states: "I am the Lord your God, vengeance is mine, I will repay" (Romans 12:19) He is not telling His children to never react at all and to just patiently accept being tortured for the fun of it, without any end in sight, smiling while people wipe their boots all over them. God says "I will repay" putting Satan and his workers of iniquity	Satan is trying to use our capacity to self-examine in order to instill false guilt for their evil actions, turning us into weak and defeated souls. What if Satan sends multiple abusers to live next to and above a living soul to abuse it through noise campaigns (dropping object on the floor overhead or banging on walls, having firemen and motorcycle gangs and utility workers join in the fun) over many years say 25-30 years? What if the victimized soul moves and the skits are recreated wherever it moves, new "neighbors" moving in? And this is the least of the evil tactics used to torture living souls - there is spiritual warfare layered on top of this. If this soul were to lodge a complaint, should this reasonably result in the soul being labelled as impatient? By Satan's standards, yes. The type of warfare carried out by Satan's minions are akin to torture practices that are considered to be illegal in the world according to the rules of war (i.e.: waterboarding).

	on notice – justice is indeed coming.
Kindness	God asks us to be kind as we live our lives and when we try to help others but he does not ask us to “obey” to everything the world or worlders ask us to do. We are to be separate from them. If one of them wants to be saved and asks for help, we can obviously help using discernment to separate the sheep from the wolves. The more a soul overcomes, the further it moves within this world construct, the more improbable it will be surrounded by anything other than the shadows of those it used to know because they didn’t make it that far. The soul must therefore be on its guard because these workers of iniquity mean to harm it. Should a soul be labelled as unkind just because it stays alive to follow Christ?	Satan conveniently interprets this to mean that we are to agree to anything and everything that is requested from us by his workers even when these requests go against God’s will for our lives. For example, if family members or work colleagues or neighbors gather together to throw curses on a living soul to elevate themselves in Satan’s Kingdom, these very “people” will feel no shame thereafter in contacting the soul to pull it back into their grasp. If this soul distances itself, they will shamelessly brand it as “unkind”. As mentioned, there is no discussion possible with this level of narcissism and self-serving evil behavior. If Satan sets a trap for us, he expects us to walk in it and not say a word otherwise he will brand us as unkind. His minions are no different.
Goodness	We are to be good. How are we good? By producing good fruits? What are good fruits?	Satan turns everything upside down. “...those who call evil good, and good evil;

	Anything the Holy Spirit asks a born-again soul to do which will necessarily be according to God's will for our lives.	Who put darkness for light, and light for darkness; Who put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! (Isaiah 5:20)  By Satan's standards, killing someone becomes a good work.
Faithfulness	God means for souls to never turn against Him even when put to the test by Satan and his minions but rather, to remember that He is always with them and that He never forsakes them.	Satan conveniently interprets any anger whatsoever expressed by a soul with respect to the way the world is managed and the injustices in the world as the soul being unfaithful to God whereas the soul is objecting to the way the Accuser is managing the world system and abusing of his powers. Righteous anger is not forbidden by God.

This persistent mislabeling of souls by the Accuser delays souls from ever exiting their wilderness experience, unreasonably prolonging their suffering. Further, false labelling of born-again souls is equivalent to saying that they do not have the Holy Spirit.

The unforgivable sin in God's Word is to undermine the presence of God's Holy Spirit in God's children. That is to say, when a soul is truly born again and is indwelt by the Holy Spirit, all spiritual entities including Satan and his angels, would clearly see this. If they intimate that this is not the case, this is the blaspheming of the Holy Spirit which is the unforgivable sin.

THE MARK OF THE BEAST

The informed acceptance of the mark of the beast by souls deciding on their spiritual allegiance is an important marker leading to the day of judgement. If this mark comes in the form of an injection or an implant, shouldn't the consequences of accepting this mark be made very clear to each soul upfront? In other words, should it not be made clear that in accepting this mark souls agree to move away from God and pledge their allegiance to Lucifer/Satan?

Say in a futuristic world (sic), a vaccine was to be offered by the world system headed by the world's Ruler, the Accuser, and say that it was being offered under the guise of an immune boosting inoculation but that it was really a Trojan horse for the Mark of the Beast, should souls be condemned later for taking this supposed inoculation when their decision was entirely uninformed and based on lies?

What if through covert military operations, God's children were to be injected secretly at night against their free will consent? Could these souls reasonably be held responsible for the outcome of this illegal act?

More importantly, could this world system be allowed to exist even for another second in such circumstances? Should the world Ruler authorizing such actions be found to be carrying out his duties responsibly? And if Satan were to say that his hands are clean and that men carried out such actions, could we possibly ignore the fact that Satan's demons are controlling most if not all of these workers of iniquity and that therefore it is the world Ruler that is carrying out these actions?

All of this may sound outrageous to you depending on your life experience but we should all be asking ourselves these hypothetical questions to start developing our critical thinking and determine for ourselves where we would draw that moral line. It's time to say enough is enough, for the sake of all souls if we truly care about humanity.

TECHNOLOGICAL ABUSE

Technology has long been used against souls in this system. This is something that most souls may not realize due to their world view of reality however paying close attention to the technology which is being implemented on earth as we move closer to Satan's arrival on earth, we can see that this technology is meant to imitate the powers he has been exerting on souls from the air as "the prince of the air". From there, Satan through his demons could easily see everything and everyone, most souls being either open doors for demons to access or outright hosts for them. From outside this construct, it was also easy to do anything, this world likely being an electromagnetic construct. Once on earth though, inside the system, Satan will need to adopt technologies to control the system from within.

Of course, Satan aims to imitate God and therefore will want to imitate God's omnipotence, omnipresence and omniscience. How could Satan create a technological system where he could be all powerful over everything and everyone, be able to see everything and know everything? He could make use of nanotechnology inside the body which would communicate with all the technology surrounding everybody thereby creating a network, of objects... such as the Internet of Things. He could have started to gather information on people's tastes and relationships through online purchase platforms and social media platforms which would feed into profiling all of the "objects" in this system. He could be putting systems in place where all money, food, water and information would be controlled by him. Is this system not here already, or about to be fully released?

While observing souls to see what they do and how they use their free will may be reasonable when you are meant to test them and you are overseeing the world system, should such a Ruler be allowed to implement technology meant to access the mind to monitor every thought with the intent of condemning souls on thoughts alone or even worse and most likely to occur, assign false thoughts to these souls to then drag them down?

In other words, should souls be pre-judged on thoughts as in the movie "Minority Report" or should they be judged on their actions, their fruits?

I believe God's Word is clear on this matter, souls are to be judged on their fruits - produced through informed free will and in a state of mind allowing reasonable decisions to be made. The quality of a tree can only be defined by its fruits:

"Luke 6:43 - "For no good tree bears bad fruit, nor again does a bad tree bear good fruit" and also, Jesus' Parable of the Two Sons makes clear that the action in the end supersedes what was said during the thinking process:

Matthew 21:28-31 - "A man had two sons, and he came to the first and said, 'Son, go, work today in my vineyard.' He answered and said, 'I will not,' but afterward he regretted it and went. Then he came to the second and said likewise. And he answered and said, 'I go, sir,' but he did not go. Which of the two did the will of his father?"

From this we are made to implicitly understand that a soul should be allowed to think before it acts, then it should be allowed to make a choice and that further, it should be allowed to change its mind and act differently. Is this being allowed in the current system? Why do captive souls seem to indicate they are not allowed to come back on this side of the mirror? Aren't the souls held captive by the Kingdom of Darkness allowed to change their mind?

What if Satan was to implement mind hacking technologies to control decision-making? What if these technologies were used to force individuals to make decisions they would not otherwise make thereby circumventing free will altogether? Would it be appropriate for a Ruler to subvert the free will of the very souls he is supposed to be testing for the purposes of purification? Of course not, and yet... this has been used for a long time. We are just now hearing about upcoming technologies meant to hack the mind however ELF's and microwave technologies have been used to create electronic rage to turn people against each other leading to slaughters. The perpetrators of such atrocities watched on as these souls attacked each other all the while "judging" them for their bad behavior.

What about technology affecting and completely modifying the bodies, the God-given vessels, meant to serve as temples for God? Should the Ruler be allowed to use such a technology against God's children? Of course not.

BREAD AND CIRCUS FOR THE FALLEN SOULS

It is an obvious realization that any attentive living soul comes to after being in the wilderness for a long enough period of time, that those who manage the system have spent most of their time providing bread and circus to the fallen souls to keep them entertained as a means of control.

After all, if these souls feel that they made the right choice because they look at the living souls going through hardship from offstage which gives them a feeling of superiority as they now have access to more information on the world construct, they are easier to control. Further, they could find comfort in numbers telling themselves that since everybody seems to be on that side of the mirror and since they were so celebrated upon their arrival, they must have accomplished something... special? But they didn't, did they.

The above is of course a complete misunderstanding of the facts on the part of the "dead". Selling out and spiritually falling is failing the test. There is no glory in taking the easy way out to have a more comfortable life, to be on your knees in servitude to your Captors while you sell out other souls to live another day. There is no strength in numbers, it's meaningless. A trillion wrong people still lead to a wrong conclusion. There is no superiority granted in selling out, no matter how much you mock the living souls. Activities meant to placate the fallen souls by having them engage in placing bets against the living souls, having them watch their every reaction to the constant triggering and harassment by workers of iniquity are a waste of what God sparks, the souls, are meant to be. Is this really a good use of the powers delegated by God to those supposedly in charge of managing the world system? Is this meant to encourage the fallen souls to learn from their mistakes and grow in intelligence or wisdom? It is an embarrassing display of mindlessness and abuse of power. This is what happens when any spiritual being moves away from God, from a state of holiness to complete emptiness.

THE NATURE OF THE WORLD RULER

Jesus describes the Accuser, Satan, as follows in John 8:44 – "...He was a murderer from the beginning, and does not stand in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaks a lie, he speaks from his own resources, for he is a liar and the father of it."

This makes clear that as a liar, our Accuser in this realm has cheated his way through all of our experiences and lied about us consistently to God. He has likely thwarted our progress by changing facts, times and laws and by falsely labelling our progress. Through deceit and abuse he stole many souls to serve as hosts for his shadows and is therefore considered to be a murderer because a soul sitting in the backseat watching another entity call all the shots in its place is no longer living its life, it is only watching a show.

THE UPCOMING JUDGEMENT OF SATAN AND THE DEMONIC REALM

If Satan and his angels are to be judged in line with the standards they used against Jesus Christ and all the souls, they have already judged themselves.

Matthew 7:1-2 - "Judge not, that you be not judged. For with the judgment you pronounce you will be judged, and with the measure you use it will be measured to you. "

GOD'S JUSTICE AND THE WAY OUT OF THE WORLD

God knows that the system has gone off the rails. He knows that Satan does not rule fairly and never has. God is in perfect control. He has already declared Satan's judgement in the Book of Revelation.

Further, God already provided us with a way out of this system. He sent His Son to earth so that He could give His life as a sacrifice to pay for our sins in line with this legal system's requirements, thereby forcing Satan to let any soul that accepts His sacrifice as payment for their sins to be set free.

This means that those that crossed the mirror, the Rubicon, the curtain, or whatever you want to call it, those held captive by the Kingdom of Darkness can be saved. Hence, all of those who have become workers of iniquity, slaves to Satan because they "sold out" at some point, are eligible to accept the sacrifice of Christ. Only God judges the souls, nobody else – Satan, no matter how he tries to mislabel or profile souls, manages a sifting/purification system, he is not the judge. God will judge and Christ and His angels will carry out the wrath of God and the separation of the wheat from the tares (the threshing) on Judgement Day.

Romans 10:13: "Whoever calls on the name of the Lord shall be saved"

2 Peter 3:9: "The Lord is not slow in keeping his promise, as some understand slowness. Instead, he is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance."

Have the courage to break the chains of your enslavement by choosing to be born again and be set free (read HOW TO BE BORN AGAIN). We are all sinners before we are born again. The apostle Paul is an example of a sinner who became a great Servant of God, he who once persecuted and killed Christians before he heard the call of God and crossed back on the side of the Living, from the spiritually dead to the living.

1 Timothy 1:12-16 – “I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who has given me strength, that he considered me trustworthy, appointing me to his service. Even though I was once a blasphemer and a persecutor and a violent man, I was shown mercy because I acted in ignorance and unbelief. The grace of our Lord was poured out on me abundantly, along with the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus.

Here is a trustworthy saying that deserves full acceptance: Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners—of whom I am the worst. But for that very reason I was shown mercy so that in me, the worst of sinners, Christ Jesus might display his immense patience as an example for those who would believe in him and receive eternal life.”
